Technical Specifications

JV5 series PicturePerfect digital imaging ink is a solvent based, ultraviolet light resistant pigmented ink that is applied to various media using Mimaki® JV5 inkjet printers or similar piezo inkjet printers utilizing Epson® head technologies. This ink has been specifically designed for use in these printers assuring compatibility and an easy switch over. Triangle's investment in research and development on their drop on demand CMYK spectrum inks has proven that it is convincingly better than other brands previously used in the industry. Triangle's inks give stronger cyans, richer magentas, a jetter black and a truer process yellow. These inks are manufactured under strict quality controls; pigment particle size is sub micron and color is computer controlled for consistent batch to batch uniformity.
